That no person be permitted to kill or sell any Flesh but to those that are licenced, nor in any other place then before is specified, vpon paine to forfeit the Flesh to bee giuen to the pooze in the prisons, and to suffer imprisonment.

That the Constables, Churchwardens, and other publique Officers bee authorized in London, and the Liberties thereof, by the Lord Maior, and by the Iustices in the Counties of Middlesex and Surrey, and the forenamed Officers in Westminster, to make search, and to see that the licenced Butchers, nor any other doe kill or vtter any Flesh, nor doe any thing contrary to these Orders.

And for the better knowledge of the trueth of disorders in this kind, and redresse of the incontinencies, the Lord Maior of London, and euery other Officer here appointed, shall call before them, and send for any of the seruants of any Inholders, Victuallers, Tauerneers, and keepers of ordinary Tables, and such other that vtter Victualls, to examine them vpon their corporall Oathes, what Flesh is, or hath bene during the Lent season, dressed, killed, vttered, or eaten in their houses, which if they shall refuse to doe, then to commit to prison the said seruants so refusing vpon their oathes to declare the trueth.

That the Lord Maior himselfe shall graunt no warrant for buying of flesh in Lent, but to such as shall haue or shew to him licence in writing, according to the Lawes of the Realme to eat flesh, and the same licence to be viewed and Registered, and Bookes to be kept thereof, to be shewed when the same shall be required, vnlesse it be to Embassadors and Agents of foraine Princes.

That the Lord Maior shall now presently before Lent, or at the beginning thereof, cause all Inholders, keepers of Ordinarie Tables, Victuallers, Alehouse keepers, and Tauerneors within the Citie and liberties thereof to appeare before him, or such persons as he shall appoint meete for that purpose, and shall take bonds with sufficient Suerties of euery of them in good summes of money, viz. one hundred pound the principall, and the Suerties thirty pound apiece to his Maiesties vse, not to dresse any flesh in their houses this Lent time for any respect, nor suffer it to be eaten, except it be for some such person that lyeth in their house, that also hath licence through sicknesse, or other necessary cause to eat flesh. And for that it is to be doubted that the Fishmongers, vpon the obseruation of the said Orders, will take occasion thereby to inhanse the prices as well of fresh as of Sea fish, it is thought meete that the Lord Maior shall take order with the sayd Fishmongers, that as well the salt as fresh fish shall be vttered at reasonable prices.

That euery of the Butchers to be licensed as aforesayd, be bound in a sufficient bond with good Suerties to his Maiesties vse, to obserue these orders in euery respect, and these bonds to be taken by the Lord Maior, and other the Officers aforesayd.

And as those orders are expressly deuised to be executed in the Citie of London, and places neere to the same: so his Maiesties pleasure and commaundement is, that the execution of these or like orders be performed by the Commaundement of his Maiesties Lieutenants to be sent to the Iustices of Peace in all Shires within their Rule, and to all other Officers in Townes Corporate, or in any Liberties, with like order for bonds to be taken to his Maiesties vse.
